COLLEGE CORNER

THIS WAY TO FALLON!

(L-R): Robert Collier, Teri Zutter, Kathryn Clark, Paul Eastwood, Helaine Jesse, Jed Block, Paul Dugan, Dan Neverett and the WNC Foundation will kick off the annual employee giving campaign Thursday. This year's theme is "Building on the Pyramids of Success" or "King Tut Couldn't Take It With Him, and Neither Can You."

NICARAGUA SERVICE PROJECT GEARING UP

Tech Prep outreach coordinator Luis Pierrott is preparing for his annual trip to "give back" to his native Nicaragua. There, he will provide holiday baskets of basic necessities to severely impoverished residents in remote mountain communities. For only about $20 US, Luis can purchase supplies in local Nicaraguan markets that will sustain a family for a week or two, and also support the local economy. He includes basics like flour, oil, masa, sugar, coffee, rice, soap, cookies, cleaning supplies, toiletries, and a frozen chicken.

Although he is shy about asking for donations, many college employees annually donate to help Luis to purchase supplies for the baskets. With the help, he has been able to personally deliver hundreds of gift baskets in recent years to the tiny villages. Luis will accept any cash/check donations between now and Thanksgiving, when he will leave. Just call him at 445-4459, or stop by his office in Cedar 212.

REPORT POTENTIAL VIOLENCE AT WESTERN WITH NEW NUMBER

The college introduced a new phone number, 775-445-3258, that anyone can anonymously use to report any potentially dangerous incidents on the Carson City campus before they occur. The number to contact the on-duty public safety officer, 230-1952, remains the same. Let's keep our college safe; we're all in this together.
